By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Promotion of two officers and assignment of four section commanders were announced Wednesday by Police Chief Don Knight.

Sgt. David Ruebhausen, a Police Medal of Valor winner, was promoted to the rank of lieutenant and Patrolman Curt Walkenbach, a former Officer Friendly, was promoted to sergeant.

The promotions are being made to fill vacancies created by the appointment of Knight as chief of police and the promotion of Ruebhausen to lieutenant, said Leland Ambuehl, chairman of the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners.

Daniel L. Cochran, a new probationary patrolman, was appointed effective Tuesday to fill the vacancy created by the retirement of veteran Officer Tony Eck, Knight said.

All four section supervisors whose assignments were announced are veteran officers with experience in each of the department's areas of responsibility, Knight said.

Capt. Gerald Pinkerton, the senior captain, will remain as head of the services section, the police chief said.

Capt. James Lengyel, who relinquished his post as police chief May 7, will take over the detective section, Knight said.

Capt. Glenn Wright, who most recently headed the detective squad, has been assigned as head of the patrol section.

Capt. Kip Pomeroy, formerly with the patrol section, will supervise police operations including reports, secretariat staff, dispatchers and the shooting range program.

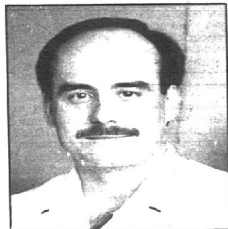

Prior to his appointment as chief on May 8, Knight headed the operations section.

Most recently, Ruebhausen worked in the detective section, first as a detective patrolman and later as detective sergeant.

He has earned 11 letters of commendation since joining the force in 1977. Lt. Col. Ron Selp, assistant chief, said Wednesday.

Ruebhausen was promoted to sergeant in 1983. He is a member of the Police Association.

Partney: Wants 'an explanation'; Irwin: 'Trying to do what's right'

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — "We are trying to do what is right and hopefully what is the best thing for the department," Linda Irwin, secretary of the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners, said Wednesday.

Irwin was speaking of the promotion of Lt. David Ruebhausen and Sgt. Curt Walkenbach, outlined in a letter by Leland Ambuehl, board chairman, at Tuesday's meeting of the City Council.

Fourth Ward Alderman Dan Partney disagrees, according to remarks he made at the council meeting and in a written statement he provided the Press-Record/Journal.

"I am truly amazed by the events which have just happened concerning a promotion to the rank of lieutenant on the Granite City Police Department," Partney said.

"For the second time in less than one year, people whose name appeared on a promotion (eligibility) list have been passed over by someone below them for promotion," he said.

Irwin said the promotions were made by the commissioners in a unanimous decision.

"We talked with (Chief) Don Knight, of course," Irwin said.

Board acts on closed campus

By Nicole Vaughn
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — No one said closing the campus of Granite City High School was going to be an easy task or that it could be done overnight.

But preparations for the month-old project have already started off at a swift pace.

At Tuesday night's meeting, the District 9 school board approved five measures that will put the project's initial stages into action.

The board voted April 18 to close the campus during lunch hours for a one-year trial period starting this fall.

The first of the measures was to authorize the personnel department to begin the search for three full-time and two part-time campus monitors. The five will be added to the current two full-time monitors.

The number of new monitors, five, is up from the one full-time and two part-time monitors originally proposed by administrators.

"When we first came in with this we tried to come in with something we could get by with, more or less a minimum," Mike Sikora, secondary education administrative assistant, said.

Sikora headed a committee that studied the closed campus concept extensively. The group's initial report was presented at the May 2 meeting.

But board members voiced concern that even with the two monitors currently at the school, that would not be enough supervision.

"We worked out a plan to cover the campus as completely as possible," Sikora said. "If this would fly, we would have every area of the campus adequately covered."

One of the primary functions of the monitors would be to check color-coded identification badges that will be issued to students. The badges would be used to make sure that only the 240 students who leave the campus daily to participate in cooperative job and off-campus training programs are the only ones who do so.

They (monitors) will also need to really check IDs to make sure these people belong on campus," Sikora said.

One fear of administrators is that once students cannot leave campus to buy drugs, drug pushers will attempt to infiltrate the campus.

Drug activity was among mounting problems cited in making

Cruse names committee chairmen

By Mike Myers
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Each alderman will be chairman of at least one of the 13 standing committees, Mayor Don Cruse said Friday afternoon.

He said he had made his selections and "doubted" they would change. The aldermen select the committees' memberships and the mayor then chooses one member to serve as chairman.

Only 6th Ward Alderman Walter Milton will chair two committees: Finance and Street and Alley. Milton served as finance chairman last year and replaces former 2nd Ward Alderman Pat Schuman, who did not seek reelection, on street and alley.

"There is something for everyone," Cruse said. All of the committees have important work if they get in there and do it.

There are no unimportant committees.

In the past, several committees seemed more important because they had something every week. But all the committees have important work to do, or else we wouldn't have committees."

Most of the returning aldermen will retain their chairmanships. In one notable exception, 6th Ward Alderman Judy Whitaker will replace 1st Ward Alderman Casner Skubish as chairman of the Sanitation Committee. Skubish will replace 4th Ward Alderman Dan Partney as chairman of the City Hall and Buildings Committee.

Partney will chair the Negotiation Committee, formerly chaired by former 3rd Ward Alderman Brett Hanke, who did not seek reelection.

The other chairmen selected by Cruse are:

Ordinance Committee: 5th Ward Alderman Lloyd Bailey.

Police Committee: 1st Ward Alderman Frank Scarsdale.

Insurance and Safety Committee: 5th Ward Alderman Ginny O'Brien.

Fire and Water Committee: 3rd Ward Alderman Virgil Kambarian.

Traffic and Lights: 7th Ward Alderman Emerald Dawes.

Pollution Plant Committee: 3rd Ward Alderman Paul Pisk.

Cable TV, Intergovernmental, Legal and Legislative Committee: 4th Ward Alderman Dan Brown.

Downtown Committee: 2nd Ward Alderman Jim Miller.

Planning and Zoning Committee: 7th Ward Alderman Jeff Worthen.

Industrial Search Committee: 3rd Ward Alderman Andy Timko.

RIF official greeted by book characters

By Nicole Vaughn
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Visitors to the District 9 school board office might have checked their calendars last week to make sure it wasn't Halloween.

On Friday morning, a butterfly — with its predecessors, the caterpillar and the egg — along with the Farmer in the Dell, Little Bo Peep, the Cat in the Hat and Huckleberry Finn roamed the halls and sat in the board room.

The story book characters were the idea of Judy Grinter, a Chapter 1 reading teacher at Frather School, to welcome Gary Ford of RIF (Reading Is Fundamental).

Grinter sent invitations to other officials, asking them to dress as their favorite book character. Ford, technical assistance specialist from the program's Washington, D.C., headquarters, held a regional meeting with school officials from Granite City and surrounding school districts.

The costumes received a few laughs, especially from guest speaker Ford, who quickly pointed out that RIF is more than giving away a few books and a few fun activities.

"It's a simple program that's hard to do," Ford said. "How can you be opposed to literacy?"

RIF was founded in 1966 and is affiliated with the Smithsonian Institution. The focus of the program is to make reading fun for children, by giving them an opportunity to choose books they want to read and are able to keep.

The program has provided children nationwide with more than 75 million free books.

Locally, three Granite City elementary schools (Webster, Marshall and Frather) participate in the program. "It's a great vehicle for community involvement," Ford said.

Ford said the effects of the RIF program are hard to measure in statistics, but, since its development, library circulation has increased; reading achievement scores have increased; and children's reading habits have changed for the better.

"Entire schools have been turned around," Ford said.

Meeting set for principal

MADISON — The District 12 School Board has called a special meeting for noon Thursday, May 25, at the board office, 1707 Fourth St.

The board will render its final decision on the reassignment of Harris Elementary School Principal David Becherer to a teaching position at the school next fall.

Becherer, principal of the school for the last eight years, requested a public hearing which drew a crowd of about 70, most of whom wanted Becherer to be retained as principal.

Teachers and parents alike praised both Becherer's professional performance and his character and were critical of the board's decision to relieve him of his duties. Luvenia Long, an assistant principal at Madison High School, was named as a potential candidate for the job.

Becherer contends that he was evaluated without his knowledge and that the six "concerns" given by the board, concerns resulting in his reclassification, are not accurate or justified.

EMOTIONAL PERFORMANCE: Chris Dorris, a kindergarten student at St. Mary-St. Mark School, is less than pleased Wednesday night about being in the school's final musical of the year, and possibly forever. Students in kindergarten through eighth grade performed the play "Peace Child" in Engelbert Hall in Madison. The school could be closed by the diocese after this year, but a group of parents and parishioners is attempting to keep the 76-year-old institution open.

His actions, as documented by the Madison County Sheriff's Department, were timely, competent and humane, said Sheriff Bob Churchich and a member ing while his license was suspended, he posted $302 bail and was released, pending a court hearing.

Ethington said the crash occurred when he was driving west on Cayuga and dropped his cigarettes. As he began reaching for them, the car hit the truck in the left rear, pushing it forward.

Gaylon D. Harris of the 2700 block of Cayuga, owner, said the truck had been parked on Cayuga, facing west.

NAACP benefit at New Salem today

VENICE — A special program to benefit the Venice-Madison Branch of the NAACP will take place at 5 p.m. today (Sunday) at New Salem Missionary Baptist Church, 1349 Klein St.

The Rev. Harold Wilson, Venice-Madison NAACP president, will be guest speaker and the public is invited to attend, the Rev. John Henry Williams, pastor, said.

Proceeds from the benefit will help the church purchase its first NAACP membership "in support of this great civil rights organization," Williams said.

Individual members of the congregation are NAACP members but a membership also will be obtained as a church group, the minister explained.

"We hope everyone will attend and help keep the 'torch of freedom' burning," Williams said.

Big-band series to return Wednesday

Drummer Stan Fornaszewski and his 14-piece Big Band will perform for the Granite City Park District's 9th annual Big Band Concert Series, held at Wilson Park, 27th Street and Delmar Avenue, Granite City.

These two-hour concerts are free, and will be held from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. on Wednesdays, May 24, June 14, June 28, July 12, Aug. 2 and Aug. 16.

Special guest Charlie Meneses from KMOX Radio will be the host for the concert on June 14. Meneses, known as "Cactus Charlie" by his radio listeners, has been a leading authority on big bands and jazz in St. Louis and throughout the country.

In 1988, he was the host for the Glenn Miller celebration held at Miller's home.

Bandleader-drummer Stan Fornaszewski says, "The band and I perform just about everything in the Big Band mode, from the original arrangements of America's favorite Big Band leaders, such as Harry James, Glenn Miller, Gene Krupa, Count Basie, Clyde McCoy, Tommy and Jimmy Dorsey, Russ Morgan and Duke Ellington, to the contemporary sounds of today's hot artists, such as the Buddy Rich Orchestra, Doc Severinsen and the NBC Orchestra, Louie Bellson and Maynard Ferguson.

Plus, we play a few pop tunes. "We try to please everybody most of the time, since our audience ranges from 15 to 70 years of age," Fornaszewski said. "It's a good thing when you have teen-agers asking you the name of certain Big Band Era songs, thinking that these are new tunes."

"They don't realize that they have probably heard most of them over an AM Radio, but a live band will always sound better, especially against a 40-year-old recording heard through a 4-inch speaker."

"All in all, we have a lot of fun playing, the audience has fun listening, and that's the way it's supposed to happen," Fornaszewski said. "What more could I ask for?"

Last year, Fornaszewski and his band performed for the Paducah, Ky., 1988 Summerfest. He says, "We had a very good time there, and are looking forward to playing there again this year. I've had several people call me from there, wanting to know when we will be there again."

The concerts at Wilson Park are sponsored by the Granite City Park District, in cooperation with American Federation of Musicians Local 717.

Day camp for kids

The Tri-City Area YMCA will conduct a Day Camp for children ages six to 14 years. The camp will consist of nine one-week sessions, beginning June 12 and ending Aug. 11.

YMCA Day Camp is more than a mere babysitting service, according to Pat Barker, executive director of the YMCA. It is a place for children to learn self-worth, confidence and Christian values, and to have fun.

The campers will travel to the Boy's and Family Recreation Center four days each week. Trained counselors will lead activities such as swimming, canoeing, fishing, arts and crafts, nature study, archery and other camping activities.

One day each week the campers will take a field trip to an educational location in the greater St. Louis area. Field trip sites include Grant's Farm, the Zoo, the Science Center, Six Flags and a Cardinal baseball game.

Day Camp will be held from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Trial begins in Panama Jax murder

By Ed Gurney
 Staff affiliate

EDWARDSVILLE — Investigators "rushed to judgment" by charging Dennis DeLuca with murdering bartender Douglas Roberts and setting fire to Panama Jax last year, DeLuca's attorney said May 17 in his opening statement at DeLuca's trial.

The attorney, James Martin of St. Louis, told jurors that authorities had perhaps hastily dismissed night watchman Jack Williams as a suspect.

Williams changed his story and eventually told police he had seen DeLuca shoot Roberts in the head, Martin said.

Roberts, 35, of Berkeley, Mo., disappeared following an altercation with DeLuca at the big Panama Jax nightclub in Collinsville in the early morning hours of March 25, 1988.

That afternoon, someone set a series of fires that damaged the club. DeLuca, 40, of Collinsville, assistant manager for security at the time, is being tried in Madison County circuit court on charges of murder, armed violence, arson and concealment of a homicidal death. Presiding is Circuit Judge Charles Romani.

Martin said Williams originally told police that Roberts and DeLuca had left the club after a fight, but about a week later, changed his story.

"The real issue is, do you believe Williams or Dennis DeLuca?" Martin said.

Madison County Assistant State's Attorney Bob Trone, prosecutor for the case, said Williams had been summoned to the second floor by assistant manager Robert Smith to break up a fight between DeLuca and Roberts.

Williams saw DeLuca point a gun a few inches from Roberts' head and shoot him, Trone said in his opening statement.

Smith, on the first floor at the time, heard what sounded like a gunshot, Trone said. DeLuca and Williams then told Smith that Roberts was OK and to leave.

DeLuca was indicted by a grand jury in April 1988. Roberts' remains were found Sept. 4 in the Mississippi River north of St. Louis, a few miles from property owned by DeLuca.

Trone said testimony will indicate that when the remains were found, there was a piece of baling wire around the neck. A pathologist will testify there were four gunshot wounds to Roberts' head, Trone said.

Martin told jurors that DeLuca will testify in his own defense and will say that Roberts started their fight. Both men had reportedly been drinking after the nightclub closed at 2:30 a.m.

Smith was present in the employees' lounge on the second floor when DeLuca and Roberts got into the fight, Trone said. DeLuca allegedly punched Roberts and knocked him down, prompting Smith to go downstairs to get Williams.

The altercation allegedly resumed in a narrow hallway next to the disc jockey's booth, where authorities believe Roberts was shot.

Nightclub employees later in the day attempted to clean up what appeared to be a large blood stain on the carpet at the top of the stairs.

Dennis Aubuchon, a scientist from the Illinois State Crime Lab in Fairview Heights, testified May 17 that tests showed there was blood on the bottom of the carpet and on the floor under the carpet at the top of the stairs. The blood was Type A, the same as Roberts' blood, Trone said.

Sam Turk of the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms in the U.S. Treasury Department testified there were at least 10 places in the nightclub where flammable liquids had been poured and ignited.

The crime lab determined that gasoline was the liquid used in most areas where fires started, Turk said.

Among witnesses testifying the first day were Steve Petroff, Collinsville police Detective Dave Zukosky, Sgt. John Thiel and firefighters John Stephens, Ron Whit and Mark Coffman.

It was Petroff who discovered the fire and reported it when he went to the club about 4:30 p.m.

Stephens was on the first pumper sent to the club. A door was pried open to enable firemen to get to the other stories. Stephens estimated the fires had been burning 15 to 20 minutes before firemen arrived. Several people testified they saw DeLuca at the scene some time after the fire department was on the scene.

Rally at Capitol seeks school funds

SPRINGFIELD — Educators, students and parents from across Illinois rallied on the Capitol steps last week in support of increased education funding, according to state Rep. Ron Stephens, R-Troy.

Stephens said Gov. James Thompson, Secretary of State Jim Edgar and numerous lawmakers addressed those at the rally, many of whom wore buttons emblazoned with the number "44," a reference to Illinois' ranking among the 50 states in school funding.

Several speakers highlighted the "Priority One Plan," a school funding proposal unveiled recently by the House GOP Task Force on Education Funding. The plan would earmark to education 63 percent of net state income tax receipts and other revenue sources, including lottery profits.

The plan would provide $191 million more for education than the governor has proposed for fiscal year 1990. It would not change the way teacher retirement is funded and would leave retirement funds intact.

Stephens said the Priority One Plan will likely be voted on later in the legislative session.

Meanwhile the Senate ended its stalemate after reaching a compromise committee membership and agenda rules. The agreement will increase the number of legislators on most Senate committees, and provides that appropriations conference committees will be open to the public.

Webster plans 'Fun Day'

All students and staff of Webster School, both past and present, are invited to attend the annual "Fun Day" to be held from noon until 5 p.m. Wednesday, May 31, on the school playground, East 25th and Kate streets.

Tours of the building will be given by fifth- and sixth-graders throughout the day. Principal Helen Schmissaur said.

The activities day will be the final one for the school, which will close at the end of the current school year.

Built in 1907, the structure has been in a state of decline over the past few years.

Next year, Webster School children will attend Lake School, East 23rd Street and Illinois 162. Only one wing of the Lake building has been used since it closed at the end of the 1982-83 school year. Work to prepare the school for the coming year is expected to continue through the summer.

Majority on Bi-State board still among goals for Milford

By Jack Cowan
Staff writer

St. Louis County Councilman H.C. Milford, R-5th Dist., said he will continue to try to convince the City of St. Louis to allow the county to have a permanent majority on the Bi-State Development Agency board of commissioners.

"We still want 3-2 representation," Milford said in mid-May. "I feel that way and I think (County Councilman) Don Bond feels that way."

The Bi-State board has five members each from Missouri and Illinois, with one member appointed each year from each state. The appointments are ordered so that the majority of Missouri commissioners annually alternates between city and county appointees.

The county last year gave Bi-State $30 million, nearly twice the city's $17.7 million subsidy for the year ending in June. County Executive Gene McNary and other county officials have complained that the county gets too little bus service for its subsidy, which was nearly one third of Bi-State's $98 million budget in fiscal 1988, ending June 30.

Milford acknowledged that he and Bond, D-4th Dist., agreed during a meeting May 7 with officials from the City of St. Louis to drop efforts for the time being to win majority representation on the Bi-State board.

Milford has said he has the council votes needed to succeed McNary if the county's request is offered and accepts a post in the George Bush administration.

Milford said the outcome of the meeting gave him hope that he eventually could persuade city officials to give the county a permanent majority on the board. The move would require state legislation.

"I think we will have an opportunity to discuss it in the future," Milford said. "I will continue to argue or to urge the city to consider the fairness of the 3-2 representation."

In broader terms, Bond said the meeting and its outcome could lead to patting up what have been deteriorating relations between St. Louis city and county.

"Everything's been strained between the city and the county in recent years," Bond said. "This will give us a cooling-off period."

"Right now, it's all open (to discussion) — Bi-State, the stadium funding issue, the airport," he said, referring to issues on which city and county officials frequently have found themselves at loggerheads.

The meeting on May 7 was called by state Sen. Thomas McCarthy, R-Chesterfield, to resolve a confrontation between city and county officials over an amendment to state legislation that would have required the county to increase its annual Bi-State subsidy to two-thirds of the $40 million it collects from a half-cent transportation sales tax.

The amendment, sponsored by state Sen. John Scott, D-St. Louis, prompted County Executive McNary to ask the county council to repeal the tax.

Milford said he and Bond agreed at the meeting to try to convince other council members to withhold efforts on the state level to give the county majority representation on the Bi-State board. The county majority was one of several conditions included in a council resolution approved last summer that calls for the county to increase its funding of Bi-State once the Metro Link light rail system starts operating.

Bi-State will oversee operation of the light rail system that is expected to begin operation in 1993.

In return for Milford's and Bond's promise at the meeting, St. Louis Mayor Vincent C. Schoemehl Jr. and St. Louis Aldermanic President Thomas A. Villa agreed to withdraw their support of Scott's amendment, which would have permitted continuance of a half-cent transportation sales tax in the city and county.

Scott withdrew his amendment and the Bi-State funding bill in its original form was passed May 12.

Besides the ongoing fight over representation on the Bi-State board, in recent years the county has pushed the city for some control over operations at Lambert-St. Louis International Airport, which is owned by the city but located in the county. Another clash has involved the location and funding of a domed stadium.

"These are all regional issues," Bond said. "If we can't get a lot of things resolved in the next year or so, we're liable to be in the same mess."

"We realize we can't have the entire cake. There's got to be a little for everyone, and there's got to be some give and take on both sides."

'Saturday Night Live' aided Simon's income

By Edward T. Hearn
P-R/J Washington bureau

WASHINGTON — Television stars know that repeats can make you rich. A famous Illinois politician recently learned the same lesson but on a less lucrative scale.

While Illinois Sen. Paul Simon didn't exactly get rich, his appearance on the late-night comedy show "Saturday Night Live" certainly helped him pick up a few extra bucks in 1987 and 1988.

Simon, then a Democratic presidential candidate, appeared on the NBC broadcast on Dec. 19, 1987. The show was rebroadcast in part or in its entirety three times in 1988.

Simon's tak was $3,042, according to Senate financial disclosure reports. Simon spokeswoman Pam Huey said the senator benefited from reruns because of the prolonged Hollywood writers' strike.

Simon wasn't the only Simon who appeared that night. The Illinois Democrat was accompanied by singer/songwriter Paul Simon, of Simon and Garfunkel fame and no relation to the senator.

Sen. Simon on May 18 released a detailed financial statement for his 34th consecutive year as a public official. It listed his 1988 net worth at $17,500.

Simon, who was required by Senate rules to file a financial disclosure by May 12 for public release a week later, stated a year ago that he and his wife

The Simons' income was also augmented by stock dividends. Simon's largest liability was a $155,675 mortgage from a southern Illinois bank.

Metro Link engineering, design work to cost $1 million less than expected

Final engineering and design work for the Metro Link light rail system will cost $1 million less than anticipated.

Stephen E. Willis, deputy general manager for Metro Link engineering and construction, said the work will set the stage for construction of the $288 million light rail system that will run from East St. Louis to Lambert-St. Louis International Airport.

Executives of the Bi-State Development Agency, which will oversee construction of Metro Link and operate the light rail line, expect to sign on Oct. 25 a contract obligating the federal government to pay for construction of the project.

The contract requires the federal government through the Urban Mass Transit Administration, to pay the construction cost of the 16-mile system.

The earliest construction can begin is next summer and the line could begin operating in early 1993, Bi-State officials have said.

Willis initially predicted that final engineering and design would cost $28.5 million. But total cost of contracts signed earlier this month is $27.5 million.

Following are companies contracted to work on Metro Link's final design and engineering and the cost of the work.

•Sverdrup Corp., $10.1 million for project management.

•Gibbs & Hill Inc., $9.9 million to design engineering systems such as the communications and car tracking systems.

•LSTS Inc., $1.6 million to design and set specifications for the rails.

•Kennedy Architects, $1.3 million for architectural design.

•Kuhlmann Design Group, $2.3 million for facility design from East St. Louis to Taylor Avenue in St. Louis. The work includes engineering for the stations and boarding platforms.

•Booker Associates, $2.3 million for facility design from Taylor Avenue to Metro Link's dual terminus at Lambert Field.

The closed-campus decision.
Several problems, including drugs, student safety in traffic, loitering in the Bellefonte Village Shopping Center, and shoplifting from local businesses, were addressed in a report prepared by Granite City Police Lt. (and board member) Roy Koberna and presented to the board in March.

The board also authorized the purchase of seven two-way radios for the month and the construction of a "base station" at an estimated cost of $4,200.
To help alleviate crowding in the cafeteria, the board also approved the purchase or construction of 20 picnic tables to be placed in the commons area just outside the cafeteria. During warm weather, the outdoor tables would provide eating space for an additional 160 students each lunch period.

To help improve the quality of the cafeteria, the purchase of two used, refrigerated salad bars at a cost of $1,600 each was approved. The cafeteria currently has salad bars that have to be filled with ice. Superintendent Gib Wainsley said. The refrigerated models would be easier to maintain because they would not have to be constantly refilled.

The older salad bars may eventually be used at the junior high schools, Wainsley said.
To also improve cafeteria service, R.H. "Dick" Ervay, food service director, will survey all students in grades eight through 11 before the end of this school year in an attempt to predetermine the usage of cafeteria service next year.
Also presented at the meeting was a list of comments, criticisms and suggestions from the student council regarding current cafeteria service.

Board members were impressed with the list.
"There are a number of good suggestions on this list," Member Jeff Parker said.
"These are all under consideration," Ervay said. "It's possible there are some we can work with."

Most of the suggestions focused on upgrading current service such as having more fresh fruit, more options at the salad bar and "new cheeseburgers."
Another suggestion was to have a separate part of the cafeteria for snacks, an area that would be open all day and operated by students during study hall.

The board also authorized Ron Landman, director of buildings and grounds, to seek bids on 4-foot fencing for the front of the campus.

Sikora's report calls for the fence to be run from Coolidge to Nameoki Road and then down the east side of the parking lot along Nameoki Road until reaching the front of the high school. The front of the main building would be left open with the fence resuming on the south side of the visitor parking lot (facing National Food), rounding an adjacent home to 30th Street and continuing to Grand Avenue.

"We feel that the opening in the fencing will help to maintain the attractiveness of the campus and that it can still be adequately supervised," the report concluded.

Cost of the fencing is estimated at $26,000.

ber of the Major Case Squad of Greater St. Louis and also worked one year with the Metropolitan Enforcement Group of Southern Illinois. He also is completing college courses at Belleville Area College.

On Nov. 24, 1984, Ruebhausen was awarded the Police Medal of Valor by the Crusade Against Crime. One of three officers chosen from throughout the region, he was presented the medal in St. Louis by Edwin Meese III, then policy advisor to President Ronald Reagan.

Ruebhausen was honored for his part in stopping a hostage situation within St. Elizabeth Medical Center on Aug. 19, 1983.

A woman with a mental problem finished sixth nurses and a patient's hostage at gunpoint in the Ketterer Center, ripped apart a nurse's station and threatened to kill the nurses or anyone who approached.

After Ruebhausen and other officers talked her into releasing the two hostages, she cooked and leveled the gun at him, but he continued talking with her while Patrolman Walter Milton approached her from the back. When the woman uncoked the gun, held it to her head and turned to reach for a cigarette, Ruebhausen ran at her, keeping her attention. She aimed the weapon at him, began to cock it and Ruebhausen grabbed the gun just as Milton leaped over a desk and helped to subdue her.

Despite a tense and dangerous situation, no shots were fired and no one was injured. Ruebhausen said later that he shared the award with other officers on his shift, particularly Milton.

Waltenbach, the department's newest sergeant, has spent the past year assigned to the detective squad. He joined the department May 1, 1979.

He served as Officer Friendly, working with young school children for two years, and was the department's crime prevention officer for two years.

Waltenbach is continuing his professional education at Belleville Area College toward a degree in administration of justice.

He is a 1976 graduate of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and a Granite City High School graduate. He worked as a police dispatcher for three years prior to his appointment as a full-time patrolman.

Cochran, the new probationary patrolman, was a member of the U.S. Marine Corps.

He is a 1984 GCHS graduate and is attending Belleville Area College, taking courses in administration of justice.

Cochran, 23, is scheduled to attend the police academy in August. Selph said.

about the promotion, and it has been known for some time there would be a promotion," she said. "We had not heard any dissension or above this means we were by unanimous decision."

No objections to the promotions were heard from the Police Union, Irwin said.

Partney alleged that on June 15, 1988, two patrolmen were promoted over an individual who was ahead of them on the list for sergeant.

"Now two sergeants have been passed over by an individual who finished sixth overall on the original testing procedure," Partney said.

"Three of the six already have been promoted and selection of a lieutenant was made from among the remaining three candidates, the eligibility list shows."

"The current Board of Fire and Police Commissioners, by its action today, has made a mockery of the entire system and has shown there is no sense of fair play for department members. This outrageous action can only add to the low morale of our police department," Partney said.

"The views expressed by Mr. Partney are his interpretation. Dan certainly has the privilege of his stating his opinion," Irwin said.

"We addressed the ordinance (4343) in the areas which were unfilled," Irwin said.

"We operate within guidelines and we use the ordinance as our guidelines," she said.

"There was no way to comply completely with the ordinance since Jim Longley (former police chief) went back to captain, as now there are four captains (instead of the usual three). But we had to fulfill the numbers that are there, or have the council) rewrite the ordinance."

Partney told the aldermen that "21 of the 33 members of the department are the rank of sergeant or above. This means about 40 percent of the department is made up of supervisors. There are a lot of chiefs and too few lieutenants."

"The department is top heavy," which is a problem, but we can't demote anyone," Irwin said.

"Since the appointment of Don (Knight) as chief it left the lieutenant's post vacant and we felt the vacancy should be filled. That is my only reason," she said.

The ordinance calls for the department to have a police chief, a lieutenant colonel (assistant chief), three captains, four lieutenants, 11 sergeants and 33 patrolmen.

Partney suggested the entire Board of Fire and Police Commissioners resign or Mayor Von Dee Cruse ask members for their resignation if a full explanation was not made.

Partney is a past president of the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners.

Irwin said that since being appointed to the commission and serving as secretary for the past two years, she has posted the time and date of the board's monthly meetings at the City Hall.

The commission recently changed its meeting date to the second Monday of each month at 7 p.m., she said.

JENNIFER DEBEVC signs a letter of intent Tuesday to play college soccer at SIUE.

Debevc signs to play at SIUE

By Dave Whaley
Executive sports editor

GRANITE CITY — From Club Irish to the Fighting Irish would have been a nice jump, but Jennifer Debevc would rather stay close to home.

Debevc, the Lady Warrior soccer team's leading scorer and a high school All-American last year, signed a letter of intent Tuesday to play college soccer at SIUE.

Debevc said there were "10 or 11" schools looking at her, including the University of Notre Dame. But Debevc decided to go to Edwardsville and help a Lady Cougar program which has struggled in recent years.

"I decided I would be happier close to home," said Debevc. "I like the coach (Brian Korbesmeyer) there, and my family and friends can come see me play more often."

Debevc has played quite a bit for Club Irish of St. Louis during the high school off-season, and the jump to Notre Dame was a tempting one.

"That was tough to pass up," she said. "They are in the second year of the program there, so it would have been nice to help. And I seriously considered them."

Debevc will join former high school teammate Ann Szczepanik at SIUE. No. 8 has 10 goals and three assists this season after a 14-goal junior year, but sat out three of the last four regular-season games with a knee injury. The Lady Warriors were 3-2 in their last eight games after a 7-1 start.

"The desire hasn't been there for us," said Debevc. "We just have to work hard in practice and be ready."

Debevc also plans to be ready and healthy when sectional play opens Thursday. The Lady Warriors host either Peoria Notre Dame or Wood River at 5:30 p.m. in a quarterfinal game.

"I haven't been able to practice for the last week," she said. "But I plan to start running in the next couple of days. The knee is feeling better."

While working on healing her own knee now, Debevc might be working on other people's knees in the future. Although she said she's undecided now, Debevc thinks she might study sports medicine in college. That's not a bad idea considering there aren't too many job openings for women soccer players.

"After college, that's it," she said of her playing days.

NOTES: The site for the semifinals and finals of the state tournament have been changed. Quarterfinal games on June 2 will still be played at Niles West High School in Skokie, but June 3 games will be played at Winnetka New Trier, 7 Happy Road, Northfield, Ill.

Brazee to state; Trojanettes advance

Sophomore Dan Brazee became the first member of the Warrior boys track team in several years to qualify for the state meet Friday.

Brazee had a high jump of 6-3 at the Belleville East Class AA Sectional to place him second in that event. That qualified him for next weekend's boys state meet in Charleston. Alton's Mike Bolling was first in the high jump with a leap of 6-5.

The Madison Trojans were shut out from qualifying for the state meet at the Red Bud Class A Sectional, scoring only five points.

At the girls state meet in Charleston, the Madison Trojanettes fought off the rain and advanced three relay teams to Saturday's finals. The 400 meter relay team of Sharon Browley, Katrina Garrett, LaGloria Marshall and Vivian Turner won its heat and turned in the second-fastest time of the day with a run of 50.3 seconds to advance to the finals. Madison took second in the state in the 400 relay last year.

The Trojanettes' 800 meter relay team, which won state last year and hasn't lost a race this season, continued to roll by winning its heat in a time of 1:48.52. Runners in that relay are Tramia Burt, Marshall, Turner and Garrett.

The 800 medley relay team of Browley, Marshall, Garrett and Shalonda Virginia won its heat in a time of 1:54.2 and ran in Saturday's finals.

The 1600 meter relay team of Detra Blakely, Virginia, Turner and Angelique Brown finished ninth in its heat with a time of 4:22.5 and did not advance to the finals.

The Trojanettes also did not advance in any of three individual events. Marvis Jones had a throw of 32-6 1/2 in the shot put, good for sixth in her flight. Turner ran a 13.3 in the 100 meter preliminaries, good for sixth place in her heat; while Garrett took fifth in her preliminary heat in the 200 meters with a 27.4. That advanced her to the semifinals, where she took eighth in her heat with a 27.5 and was eliminated.

East St. Louis won the boys sectional at Belleville with 97 points to Alton's 69. The Warriors were sixth with eight points. The Flyers took first in nine of 18 events and advanced 13 individuals and four relay teams to the state meet. Lincoln was third with 43 points, followed by Edwardsville (27), Belleville East (23), Granite City, Belleville West (7), Althoff and Cahokia (4 each), Civic Memorial (3) and Collinsville (2).

The Lincoln Tigerettes all but wrapped up the state title in the Class AA girls meet by advancing 12 individuals and four relay teams to the finals.

Hutchings, Buster get coaching jobs

By Dave Whaley
Executive sports editor

GRANITE CITY — John Hutchings isn't one to complain. So although he will no longer coach the Lady Warrior basketball team, Hutchings is glad to have the opportunity to head the Lady Warrior softball program.

Hutchings was hired Tuesday by the District 12 School Board to replace Jim Davis, who is taking a sabbatical from teaching and coaching next year. Natalie Buster was also hired to be the new head volleyball coach at the high school.

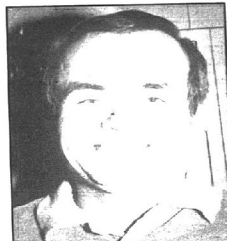

"They felt it would be too hard with me coaching both sports since I don't work at the high school," said Hutchings, who teaches at Prather Elementary School. "I'm disappointed to be leaving the basketball program, but getting the softball job makes up for it. I can live with that."

Hutchings will be coaching many of the same girls on the softball team that are on the basketball team, namely Jennifer Cavaness, Kim Fawliak, Michelle Bequette and Priscilla Meyenburg. All will be seniors next year and form the nucleus of a potential winner in basketball. Cavaness, a 6-2 center, was one of the best players in the area last year and could be even more dominant as a senior.

"There is a lot of potential with that team," Hutchings said. "That was the only drawback of me getting the softball job. But I've been involved with softball since my daughter (Kathy) was 6. And I will still get to work with many of the girls from the basketball team."

Buster is a teacher at Maryville School and has been an assistant track coach at the high school. She succeeds Don Deterding as the volleyball coach. Deterding is retiring at the end of the school year. Bill Ohlendorf was named to succeed Deterding as boys basketball coach on May 2. Hutchings had been an assistant under Deterding with the volleyball program.

"I was hoping to perhaps get

the opportunity at the volleyball job, but that was no big shock," Hutchings said. "I figured I would do it as long as Don was here."

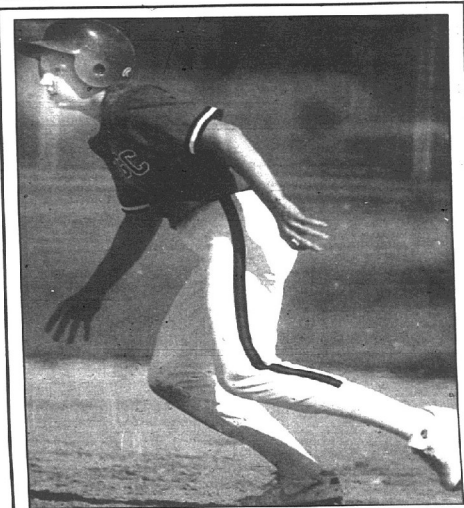

Hutchings will no longer work with the volleyball program. He said volleyball and softball assistants will be named later, as well as a new head coach for the girls basketball program. Jake Varadian has been the top girls basketball assistant for the past several years.

"We'll have a good group coming back next year," Hutchings said of the softball team. "And there are some good JV prospects."

Davis is completing his fifth year as the Lady Warrior softball coach. He plans to return to school to get a further degree next year.

Hutchings' record in four years as the Lady Warrior basketball coach was 30-61, but the team improved each season. They were 3-19 in his first year, but were close to .500 each of the past two seasons and were regional champions this winter. The entire varsity roster will return in 1989-90. The softball team will graduate only two players this year, neither of whom are starters.

"I'm kind of excited about it," Hutchings said.

RAINED OUT: Kim Pawlak and the Lady Warriors were rained out of their scheduled regular-season finale in Cahokia on Friday. The game will not be made up, so Granite City finishes the regular season with a 9-13 record. The Lady Warriors are the seventh seed in the Civic Memorial Class AA Regional and will play at Triad (No. 2 seed) in the first round of the regional Thursday at 4 p.m.

Since 1981, kids eligible for Social Security till 18 or out of high school

By Bill Hunot

Social Security Administration

Q. My daughter has been drawing Social Security since I retired and my checks started. She will be 18 next month.

Yesterday she got a letter from Social Security saying her benefits will stop because she's out of high school. I thought her benefits could continue until she finished college. What's the story?

A. The law used to provide for continuation of benefits while a child went to college, but amendments to the Social Security Act in 1981 phased out that provision.

Your child's benefits will stop when she reaches age 18 unless she is disabled or still in high school.

If she is still in high school the benefits can continue until age 19. If she is disabled, benefits can continue until she recovers from her disability.

Her benefits also would stop if she marries or if your benefits stop.

For more information about benefits, call 800-234-5772.

Q. I started my own business last year. When I did my W-2 forms this year, I noticed that a copy of them went to Social Security. Why was this?

A. Copy A of the W-2 forms goes to Social Security so that a record of each employee's earnings can be maintained. When a person becomes eligible for Social Security the benefit amount is based on that earnings record.

No copy of the W-2 should be sent to the Internal Revenue Service. Social Security forwards the W-2 information to them.

Q. I have decided that I need to buy some insurance to supplement my Medicare. What company do you recommend?

A. Social Security cannot endorse any particular insurance company, but here are some hints on looking for a Medicare supplement.

Shop carefully. Policies differ widely as to coverage and cost and companies offer different types of service.

Consider a Health Maintenance Organization. There may be an HMO or a Competitive Medical Plan (CMP) in your area that would meet your needs. These are prepayment plans that require you to get your health services directly from providers affiliated with the plan. They could save you money and paperwork.

Q. My doctor wrote a letter to Social Security stating that I am totally disabled. The people at the Social Security office told me that they do not take his word for it. If he doesn't know, who would?

A. Social Security does not rely on your doctor to make this decision because every doctor could have a different idea of what the definition of disability is.

The decision will be made by an agency of the state where you live. The agency, called a Disability Determinations Service (DDS), will ask your doctor for medical evidence but not for an opinion of whether you are disabled.

Women's health — Contraception choice should be well thought out

(Dr. George Malkasian, a nationally known gynecologist who is a senior member of the staff at the Mayo Clinic, devotes a major portion of his time to the care of cancer patients. He has written more than 100 scientific articles on obstetrics and gynecology and now serves as president of The American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists.)

By Dr. George D. Malkasian

When choosing a contraceptive, you may take many things into consideration, such as convenience, price, or the fact that a friend recommended the method.

While these are good reasons, don't let them be the only ones for choosing a form of birth control.

Instead, you need to think about what is best for you medically, what will fit your lifestyle, how effective the contraceptive is, and what contraceptive you are most likely to use consistently.

The last consideration may be the most important because no contraceptive is any good if not used correctly.

Here are some guidelines to help you make the choice: Younger women are more fertile and therefore should think about using a more effective contraceptive, such as the birth control pill.

Oral contraceptives, as a rule, are not recommended for smokers age 35 or older, and for women over 45 who do not smoke.

The IUD is a very effective contraceptive but is not recommended for young women, especially if they have not had children. IUD users run a greater risk, especially if they have multiple sexual partners, of developing pelvic inflammatory disease, which can be a cause of infertility.

Barrier methods of contraception, such as the diaphragm, condom and sponge, have almost no side effects, but are not as effective as the pill or IUD in preventing pregnancy.

Also, to be as effective as possible, all barrier methods must be used correctly, and they must be inserted or put on properly. If needed, the proper amount of spermicide should be used.

The most effective method of contraception — sterilization — is advisable only for those women and men who are positive they do not want to have any more children.

Both tubal ligation for women and vasectomy for men are relatively simple operations, but they should be considered permanent steps. Surgery to reverse them is complicated, expensive and not always successful.

Choosing the contraceptive method that is best for you may take some time and careful thinking. That time and effort will be well worth it, though, when you know you have chosen a safe and reliable means of birth control.

For a copy of "Contraception: Which Method For You?" (AFWS), send stamped, self-addressed, business size envelope with name of booklet to: The American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists, Resource Center, 409 12th Street, SW, Washington, D.C. 20024-2188.

WATCH THE BIRDIES: One can become a home builder by making an assortment of birdhouses and feeding shelters. The homes and shelters shown here can add colorful touches in one's landscape, and if one gives birds their room and board, they will reward one with many hours of backyard entertainment. Construction plans for the collection pictured are available. Each project is easy; all one does is trace the patterns onto wood, saw out and assemble. Those interested in obtaining plans should request "Birdhouse Collection C12," and send $5.50 to Steve Ellington, c/o St. Louis News Service, P.O. Box 2383, Van Nuys, Calif. 91409-2383. Another collection of plans features three feeders and three houses, including a fruit-and-suet feeder and two models with Plexiglas sides; this collection, called "Birdhouses 684," costs $3.50.

Fans beat hot days most economical way

The way some people look at it, there's no trick to beating the heat in summer — as long as you're willing to pay the price. But it doesn't have to be that way. Fans can lend a lot of help in reducing cooling costs.

A wide variety of powered ventilators are available. Properly selected and installed, they can cut your energy bills without sacrificing your comfort.

Whole-house fans
Foremost among the energy-saving powered ventilators is the whole-house fan. Situated near the center of the home, the fan can be used during the summer months to draw in cooler evening air through screened windows and doors, creating a pleasant and comfortable indoor environment.

The fan also produces breezes that can make the temperature seem 2 to 8 degrees cooler than it actually is.
An effective cooling device at temperatures well into the 80s, the whole-house fan can yield substantial energy savings as it takes much of the cooling burden off the air-conditioning system, yet can be operated for as little as one-tenth of the cost of air-conditioner operation.

The Home Ventilating Institute (HVI), a voluntary organization of manufacturers of static and powered home-ventilating equipment, emphasizes that it is important to select a whole-house fan with the correct capacity for your home.

Ceiling fans
Ceiling fans, devices that have been around since the turn of the century, have enjoyed a rebirth in popularity recently, largely because of their decorative appeal.

However, the fans also offer significant cooling and energy-saving benefits to homeowners. Research has shown that ceiling fans have the ability to make room occupants feel comfortable at temperatures up to 85 degrees. The ceiling fan's ability to provide cooling effects at temperatures into the mid-80s is of notable significance in terms of energy and cost savings.

The fans are extremely economical to operate and can yield substantial savings when used to supplement air conditioning.

The fans are available with short-stem assembly, allowing them to fit easily into rooms with standard 8-foot ceilings.

The fans range in size from 36 to 52 inches across. The smaller models are designed for use in tight quarters, such as hallways, small offices, stairways, dining rooms, apartments and small houses where space is at a premium.

The larger fans are suited to living rooms, play rooms, large porches, basements, dens, and, thanks to silent operation, bedrooms.

HVI cautions consumers to be very careful in selecting a ceiling fan. The organization notes that some fans are built strictly as decorative items and are of almost no value as air-circulating devices.

Consumers are urged to determine that the fan being considered has been constructed sturdily, to withstand the rigors of operation.

Attic fans
During the summer months, as the sun beats down upon the roof of the house, air in the attic can become extremely hot. As the heat builds up, it can penetrate to the house below, causing discomfort or putting an added burden on a home's cooling system.

Further, attic heat buildup poses a threat to insulation and to structural materials, contributing to deterioration of these items.

The problem continues in the winter when water vapor produced throughout the house rises to the attic and collects there. It can penetrate insulation, impairing its efficiency, and can also cause damage to other materials in the roof and attic.

An ideal way to combat both problems is with a powered attic space ventilator. Mounted on the roof or gable wall, the ventilator removes hot or moist air, replacing it with clean, fresh air from the outside.

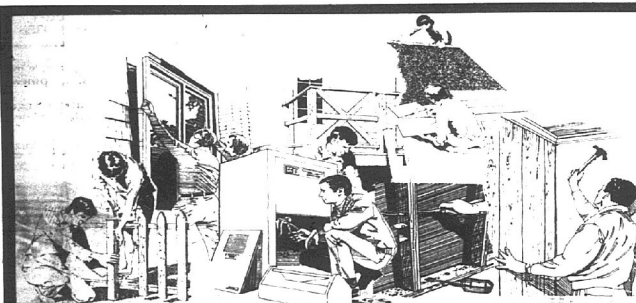

Equipped with a thermostat, the ventilator automatically comes on whenever the attic temperature exceeds safe levels.

In the winter, ventilators equipped with a humidistat activate automatically when moisture in the attic air reaches an unacceptable level.

Again, it is important to choose an attic fan with the correct capacity for your home.

With proper selection, installation and use, fans can go a long way toward providing relief from the summer heat without worrisome utility bills.

For more information about proper home ventilation, contact the Home Ventilating Institute Division of the Air Movement and Control Association, 30 W. University Dr., Arlington Heights, Ill. 60004.

Crime can be stopped by alert citizen action

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Law enforcement got a boost Monday in three different ways.

President George Bush announced his new anti-crime proposals, including a ban on the import of many semiautomatic weapons, authorization for 825 new federal agents and $1 billion for construction of new prisons.

Coincidentally, the same day brought the annual appreciation dinner honoring Quad City area police officers and the unveiling of a new police memorial statue in St. Louis.

The day was celebrated locally when 535 area law enforcement officers, their spouses and other guests attended the third annual appreciation dinner. Sponsored by the Crime Prevention and Awareness Committee of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, the event was held at St. Gregory's Community Hall.

Citizen action to curb crime was emphasized by the guest speaker.

Among the highlights of the evening was a memorial tribute accorded to the late Warren L. Decatur, who died Aug. 15, 1988.

Decatur served as chairman of the Crime Prevention and Awareness Committee for 10 years and was a former Granite City alderman and fire and police commissioner. He worked diligently with youth groups and was an active Rotarian and Shriner. It was noted.

An engraved plaque bearing his likeness and inscribed with his achievements was presented to Lorraine Decatur, his widow, and other family members.

A second plaque will be displayed in the chamber office, Walter Milton, committee chairman, said.

Veteran broadcaster Bob Hardy of KMOX Radio, a Madison County resident and guest speaker, sounded a somber note in discussing what would be required from all citizens to stop the tide of lawlessness on American streets.

Hardy did not mince words in placing the ultimate responsibility for today's actions by thugs and drug dealers squarely in the feet of citizens who have allowed and continue to allow such acts to happen.

"Citizens will continue until and as long as we put up with it," Hardy said.

"I guarantee there is someone in the audience sitting here tonight making a ton of money on drugs and we may or may not know who it is."

"After World War II we wanted to give our kids better than we had and we made a terrible mistake. We gave them everything."

"They had everything by the time they were 18. Then they trashed our language, trashed our music, trashed our education system and trashed our history."

"That's the way it is today. We created, nurtured and helped it along because we shrugged off the commitment. You go to the movies and sit and squirm when the 'F' word is used. But nobody says anything."

"The new California law they voted recently, basically and simply, is that parents are responsible for their kids. They now plan to send the parents for counseling. I think it's marvelous."

The newsman has problems reading the news reports, he said.

"I sit there five days a week for 48 hours and you should read what I read. You should see what I edit out because you couldn't take it with your eggs and bacon. We can't talk about it because it is offensive," Hardy said.

"You could take every gun away from everybody and it wouldn't make a difference. And no, I do not belong to the National Rifle Association. Taking the guns away isn't the answer."

"Speaking of drugs, they put on marketing seminars in the hotels in St. Louis to teach kids 15 and 16 years old how to peddle 'crack,'" he said.

When an officer stops a vehicle on Interstate 44, three out of 10 arrests turn up drugs from California.

"We all know where it's coming from and who uses it, but nobody seems to give a damn until it happens to them. Then we say something should have been done a long time ago."

"How long are we going to take it? Until and unless you, I and all the rest of us say 'That's it, I've had it, no more.'"

"We allowed it to happen and we stop it, it will continue to happen," he said.

Joe Hassler, chamber president, served as master of ceremonies. The Rev. Thomas Succarotte, pastor of the Nativity of the Virgin Mary Orthodox Church and chaplain of several police departments, gave the invocation and benediction.

Dinner music was provided by the Note-A-Bles and floral arrangements for the tables were provided by Leo Schermer. Charlie Hester of Charlie's First Season catered the dinner.

Law enforcement agencies represented at the dinner included Granite City, Madison, Pontoon Beach and Venice police, the Madison County Sheriff's Department, Madison County Probation and Court Services, Illinois State Police and Division of Criminal Investigation, U.S. Army Center, Illinois Attorney General's Office, Illinois Secretary of State Office and security personnel.

Dangerous gun ends in death of young man

EAGLE PARK — A dangerous weapon without a trigger guard apparently was responsible for the fatal wounding of a young man who had been moving grass on his family's property about 9 p.m. Monday.

Lorenzo Brimarge, 22, of the 400 block of Mary Street in Eagle Park died of a gunshot wound at 11:59 p.m. Tuesday at St. Elizabeth Medical Center after a bullet struck him in the abdomen.

Detective Ron Tune of the Madison County Sheriff's Department, who investigated the shooting, said it appears there is no reason to suspect the shooting was anything but accidental.

Two friends were with Brimarge at the time he was shot at Terry and Allen streets in Eagle Park. The trigger of the .22 caliber rifle apparently caught on the lawn mower, discharging the weapon, Tune said Thursday.

"Initially, before we confirmed some things and put it all together, we weren't sure. We now believe it was an accident."

"There is no reason to suspect it was anything other than an accident, as two of his friends were there with him," Tune said.

"He had the gun wrapped in a coat and, with no trigger guard, he could have easily squeezed the trigger accidentally, picking up the coat," the detective said.

"He'd had some problems earlier in the evening with an individual and had got the gun for protection," Tune said.

"It was the best of guns and apparently was not his (Brimarge). We don't know where it came from but it was very dangerous," he said.

The rifle had no stock, lacked a trigger guard and was in bad condition. "It was very dangerous hiding it in the jacket," the detective said.

An obituary appears on Page 7A of today's issue.
